

Professional Tele-Prospecting Services and Cool & Associates to exhibit at the Michigan Professional Women's Network 2007 Exposition in Southfield

WATERFORD, MI (October 15, 2007) – Professional Tele-Prospecting Services and Cool & Associates have teamed to exhibit at the Michigan Professional Women's Network (MPWN) 2007 Expo to be held at the Southfield Convention Center in Southfield, Michigan on Thursday, October 25, 2007 from 10am to 3pm. The 13th Annual MPWN Expo is an exciting event which will showcase over 110 local businesses as well as provide Health Care facilities with which to interact.

"I am excited to be a part of the 13th Annual MPWN Expo. This is the second year we have partnered with NAWO (National Association of Women Business Owners). It gives us a wonderful opportunity to meet with small business owners that may not have a relationship with someone who can help them grow their businesses. I believe Tele-Prospecting can be their "direct line to profits" said Tamera Appleton, Vice President of Michigan Professional Women's Network. "The Expo has grown from 60 exhibitors in 2002 to 110 in 2007, a 45% increase. Our success is demonstrated by the number of returning and new exhibitors each year".

"The MPWN EXPO is more than just about business it's about providing support for the individual member with their business and whatever else they might need", said Diane Buffalin, Executive Director of Michigan Professional Women's Network.

"Professional Tele-Prospecting Services provides the linkage required for small-medium size businesses to expand and grow in the global marketplace" said Joseph P. Cool, President of Cool & Associates, Inc. "There is a definite inherent synergy between Professional Tele-Prospecting Services and Cool & Associates through linkage between local companies of the MPWN and potential Clients throughout the global marketplace", further said Cool.
